the training anthology or siksa samuccaya is a collection of quotations from buddhist sutras with illuminating and insightful commentary by the eighth century north indian master santideva best known for his philosophical poem the bodhicaryavatara santideva or shantideva has been a vital source of spiritual guidance and literary inspiration to tibetan teachers and students throughout the history of tibetan buddhism charles goodman offers a translation of this major work of religious literature in which Santideva has extracted from the vast ocean of the Buddha's teachings a large number of passages of exceptional value either for their practical relevance, philosophical illumination or aesthetic beauty. The training anthology provides a comprehensive overview of the Mahayana path to awakening and gives scholars an invaluable window into the religious doctrines, ethical commitments and everyday life of Buddhist monks in India during the first millennium CE.

An exposition of the entire Buddhist path in only 123 verses, a Buddhist classic, Nagarjuna's poetic presentation of the fundamental teachings of the Great Vehicle or Mahayana is remarkable for its concise style and memorable imagery, making it one of the most widely quoted sources in other commentaries on the Mahayana path. The great Indian Buddhist master Nagarjuna, first-second century CE, wrote his celebrated poem, letter to a friend, as a gift of advice to a South Indian king, and it has since become a monument in the Indian shastra tradition. Despite its short length, only 123 verses, Nagarjuna's letter to a friend covers the entire Mahayana path, combining a practical approach to daily conduct with a theoretical exposition of the different stages leading to enlightenment. It has thus been an ideal source for many of Tibet's great scholars seeking a scriptural authority to enhance their own descriptions of the Buddhist path. Any difficulties in understanding the poem are overcome here by Khenpo Rinpoche's commentary, which turns Nagarjuna's sometimes cryptic poem into straightforward prose, expanding on each topic and ordering the different subjects in such a way that on returning to the original poem, the reader can easily make sense of the advice it contains. It includes headings to explain Nagarjuna's frequent changes in subject and full explanations of the ideas introduced in each verse. In addition to the commentary, this book presents the original poem in the Tibetan and in a new English translation that attempts to emulate Nagarjuna's lines of metric verse. Also included are Khenpo Rinpoche's structural outline, a Tibetan line index to enable students to locate quotations used in other Tibetan works, full notes and a glossary.

The first part of the Institutes of the Laws of England, or Commentaries upon Littleton, not the name of a lawyer only, but of the law itself.

Recovering the Black Female Body recognizes the pressing need to highlight through scholarship the vibrant energy of African American women's attempts to wrest control of the physical and symbolic construction of their bodies away from the distortions of others.
